

The SPCA Alliance of Charlotte, NC
INVITES YOU TO ATTEND...

American Humane Association's Animal Emergency Services Volunteer Training Workshop

July 19-20, 2008 8:30 am - 5:00 pm
Lowe's Motor Speedway, Concord, NC

555 Concord Parkway South, Concord, NC 28027

Directions: Visit www.lowesmotorspeedway.com for driving directions (signs will direct you where to park)

Who should attend?

Anyone interested in the welfare of animals...

following a disaster, professionals trained in disaster response, EMS personnel, firefighters, animal shelter staff, animal control officers, veterinarians and vet techs, and animal handlers/trainers.

NOTE: This training is a first step to becoming an American Humane volunteer to respond at the National Level.

What will we learn?

How to manage large and small animals, coordination of animal shelters and emergency response within the existing national disaster response system, interagency cooperation, animal First Aid techniques, personal safety in an emergency and media relations.

What will it cost?

$50 non-members; $35 for American Humane members. Training materials provided. Certificate presented upon completion. For more information, and registration, go to the Red Star Emergency Services website: www.americanhumane.org/aestraining or Email: training@americanhumane.org

*Please thank our animal-loving sponsors!
As a result of a generous donation from
Regan Smith Racing & the Ryan Newman Foundation,
registration fees have been reduced by $50.00!*

The Charlotte, NC, region contact for this workshop is Ron Simons, Exec. Director of the SPCA Alliance - 704-533-0864.